County Board backs 3-area sewer plans by margin of 20-0

SIXTH OF SERIES
(Editorial on Page 22)
Bypassed by an absence of verbal or written objections in Area Two (State Park Place), the Madison County Board endorsed by a 20-0 vote Saturday morning the plan to provide sanitary sewers in three areas with separate construction projects.

Many of the board members present stressed a belief that the program being outlined to citizens offers favorable and equitable terms, far superior to what might be available in the future—not only due to inflation but also dwindling grant funds.

Two-hour hearings were conducted Saturday for Area Two and Area Three, the latter consisting of Eagle Park Area, Cloverleaf Addition and East Madison.

The Area One (Chouteau-Namodok) Venice Township hearing is set for 9 a.m. Saturday, May 22, at Courtroom Three in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

A special meeting of the County Board was conducted Saturday by Vice-Chairman Edward Vuonard, with the principal presentation given by Chouteau Supervisor Walter Sparks, chairman of the board of sanitary sewer committee.

Questions were answered by them and Edward Juneau, engineer. Harry E. Hartman, sewer project administrator, and Smith, assistant state's attorney.

The 20-0 vote was to reject a petition said to contain signatures of 391 Area Three residents.

The informal petition asked for a single sewer area for unincorporated areas of the county, it was considered and turned down at both the Area Two and Three hearings.

Sparks stressed that the plan being considered is "the only way" sanitary sewer service can be provided in the three areas. He cited state-federal help of $14,380,000 was being assured if the program proceeds now.

Hartman utilized a large map to explain the location of new collector and interceptor sewer lines.

Juneau promised the gathering of more than 100 that the new pipes will be "bottle-tight," limited solely to sanitary waste from homes and businesses and carrying no stormwater.

On and off the record 'Grass' green, face of gardener is red

Two Venice police officers on patrol became curious Saturday afternoon when they drove past the 200 block of Granville Street and saw three men standing by a garden plot, one of them with a shovel in his hand.

The officers stopped to take a look and said they recognized a number of marijuana plants in the garden.

"I guess you know what that is," one of the officers remarked to the man with the shovel.

"Yes sir, I know what it is and I was just getting ready to destroy it," the man replied.

The officers stood by while the man dug up and cut the plants into pieces.

Police said 36 plants were destroyed, and several of them were taken to the police station and marked as possible evidence.

Illinois solves the case of the missing college

The college that was never there, as far as the state of Illinois is concerned.

Attorney General William J. Scott won a permanent injunction Thursday in Sangamon County Circuit Court against Trinity Hall College and Seminary, Inc. incorporated in Illinois as an institution, supposedly located in Springfield.

No evidence of a campus or classroom activity could be found of such a college in Springfield or Illinois.

The injunction prohibits "Trinity College" from holding itself forth as a degree-granting or post-secondary educational institution until such time as it complies with state laws.

Scott acted on a complaint forwarded through the German consul in Chicago from a German citizen who questioned the validity of various kinds of "college degrees" offered in return for a "donation" to the firm.

The "college" is now reported to be doing business out of Pennsylvania.

Three specific objections to establishment of Madison County Special Sewer District No. Three to encompass the Eagle Park Acres-Cloverleaf Addition-East Madison area were rejected by the County Board to conclude the second of two two-hour hearings at Edwardsville Saturday.

A quorum of board members who attended the special session, called to give residents and property owners of Area Three an opportunity to express their views toward establishment of a district authorized to issue general obligation bonds for sanitary sewer construction, voted unanimously not to accept the objections as substantial reasons for altering the sewer plan.

The action followed two hours of discussion by residents and property owners of Area Three and explanation by township and county officials of the four-township sewer program.

The Area Three meeting and hearing, which began at 11 a.m. at the courthouse in Edwardsville, immediately followed a similar hearing for residents of State Park Place, Special Sewer Area Two.

Voting separately on each objection expressed during the meeting, the County Board members balloted 15 to 0 to turn down the objections. Eighteen board members had answered the roll call at the opening of the second hearing.

A petition was said to have been signed by 391 property owners and electors of the Eagle Park Acres-Cloverleaf-East Madison area objecting to establishment of three separate sewer areas that would result in varying tax rates to retire bonds issued to pay the local share of sewer construction costs.

The petition proposed that the sewer construction program be developed as a single package for all of Madison County. This was ruled out as impossible under the state law being utilized.

An objection was expressed during the meeting that the cost

Forty-two tows are backed up today at Granite City Locks 27 as the river congestion resulting from repair work continues.

A tally late this morning showed 33 northbound tows and nine southbound tows waiting.

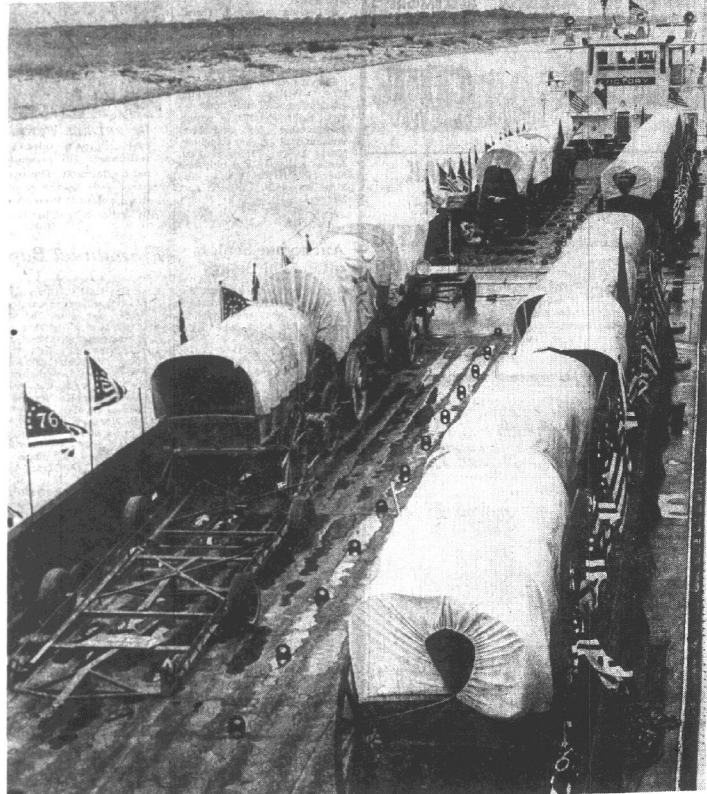

Starting at 10 a.m. today, northbound traffic is being allowed to proceed for a 24-hour period, Lockmaster Floyd Wade said. A 12-hour southbound schedule then is planned.

The one-way traffic plan is credited with reducing a more serious backup that developed in the middle of last week. There were 64 tows waiting at

WAGONS' HOT This bargeload of floating prairie schooners passed through the Chain of Rocks locks and canal at Granite City late Thursday afternoon, en route to St. Louis for a parade and Bicentennial activities prior to heading eastward to Valley Forge, Pa., for a July 4 Bicentennial observance. Some of the wagons in the "train" started overland from the West Coast last June and since have negotiated the old Santa Fe and Oregon trails. The barge carrying the wagons was routed around more than 60 commercial barges backed up north and south of the locks because of delays in getting through the 600-foot auxiliary lock at Granite City. Senate approves area civic center

"The battle to create a civic center for our region continues with another victory," Senator Sam M. Vandalabene, D-Edwardsville, commented after Thursday's passage of Senate Bills 1090 and 1591.

"The strong margin of victory on these measures, 50-2, indicates that my fellow senators continue in their commitment to the allocation of state money for needed facilities in the Downstate segment of Illinois," Sen. Vandalabene said.

"When the Supreme Court declared invalid previous legislation on this subject, passed by the Senate and signed by the governor, we had to go back to the drawing boards. The

Jail bids cause delay

Bids opened Thursday for construction of a new Madison County Jail at Edwardsville were $2.5 million higher than the $4 million the county has available for the building and major modifications of the plans may be necessary, Henry Gabriel of Granite City, architect for the building, explained after the bid opening.

The low bids for the construction, plumbing, heating and other work totaled $6,334,448 for the proposed facility which is designed to handle 130 prisoners. In December 1974, the county sold $4 million in general obligation bonds to Mercantile Trust Co. and Associates, St. Louis, to finance the construction.

Since that time, construction costs have risen rapidly, Gabriel explained. He said he expected the bids to exceed $5 million, but was very surprised they exceeded $6.5 million.

Gabriel said he will meet with the low bidders and will attempt to have them shave $1.5 million from the bids, but doubts the bids can be reduced significantly without redesigning the building.

It may be necessary to reduce the capacity to 104 prisoners and possibly as low as 88 prisoners. The present jail, which is more than 100 years old, has a recommended capacity of 45, but has held as many as 85 prisoners with others being sent to other county jails.

Madison County Sheriff John Maeras has already predicted the 130-prisoner facility will be obsolete before it can be completed in 1978, in light of the increasing arrest rate.

Gabriel said he was surprised by a lack of interest among construction companies in the bidding for general construction. Only eight firms obtained specifications for bidding and only four returned bids.

J. J. Altman Co., East St. Louis, was the lowest general construction bidder at $3,848,300. Other bids were water-cooled gas producers for furnishing fuel to the open-hearth and soaking pits, and the boiler plant and power house necessary to operate the plant.

The approximate cost of the buildings and equipment was $780,000.

The annual capacity was 20,000 gross tons.

The Niedringhaus brothers, founders of Granite City, built two industrial plants here.

The St. Louis Stamping Company plant occupied a 30-acre site at the west end of Niedringhaus Avenue.

The principal products of this plant were granite ware, lapidary, lithographed and galvanized ware.

Among the myriad kinds of high-grade and other containers here made, there were such items as foot baths, coffee biggins, fruit jar fillers and goldminers' pans.

The second plant, the Granite City Steel Works, located on approximately 115 acres in the southeastern portion of Granite City, was completed in 1866, and the first open-hearth heat was tapped on Aug. 30 of that year.

Equipment consisted of two twenty-ton Siemens basic open-hearth furnaces, one 34-inch blooming mill, one 84-inch plate mill, one 60-inch jobbing mill, the 18-inch 18-inch hand bar mill with a stand of bullheads for finishing sheet bars, six Duff water-cooled gas producers for furnishing fuel to the open-hearth and soaking pits, and the boiler plant and power house necessary to operate the plant.

The approximate cost of the buildings and equipment was $780,000.

The annual capacity was 20,000 gross tons.

Review board hearings end

The Madison County Board of Review completed hearings Friday on objections to 1975 property valuations resulting from changes to new assessment ratios. The remaining assessment books are now being balanced and will be turned over to County Clerk Evelyn Bowen by the last of this week, according to James Barton, superintendent of assessments.

Barton said the review board conducted 4,550 hearings, compared to a usual 600 such hearings in an average quadrennial assessment year. Delay in completion of the work was caused by a flood of complaints by rural landowners whose assessments were raised this year to a ratio of 33.33 per cent. Barton said the adjustment upward of rural territory was begun first because they were the lowest in the county, some ratios being as low as 17 per cent of fair cash value.

Barton said assistance from the office of County Clerk Evelyn Bowen was responsible for completion of the books this year, since her office workers assisted the assessment office in balancing township books as hearings were completed.

Miss Bowen said that if there are no more delays, she hopes to complete the extension by early July. This means that tax bills may be expected some time in August, or about two months later than usual.

While the state Department of Local Government Affairs has certified a tentative multiplying factor of .98, which would reduce the assessments as extended by county officials, a final multiplier must be obtained on a new abstract of assessments before tax estimates can begin.

News notes

Over 10,000 supporters of the Equal Rights Amendment assembled at Springfield for a rally Sunday to dramatize their desire for Illinois General Assembly ratification of the proposed U. S. Constitutional amendment. The gathering included residents of many states. Those who favor the ERA as a way of requiring equal rights for women believe they are within six votes of Illinois Senate passage; the amendment has been approved by the Illinois House.

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals approved Friday without changes a resolution amending the county zoning ordinance. It is to be considered by the County Board at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The Illinois Supreme Court ruled Friday that a $500,000 limit on malpractice damage awards is unconstitutional. New legislation is planned to replace the 1975 law overturned by the decision.

The State Board of Education voted 9-4 Thursday to trim $162 million from its budget request for July 1976-June 1977. Gov. Daniel Walker has proposed $1,718,000,000 and the board now seeks $1,735,000,000.

Suspect arson in fire that destroys home

Arson is suspected in two fires which destroyed a house on Slough Road about a mile and a half north of the Tri-City Regional Port yesterday and early this morning.

The area is not in any fire district, but Granite City Fire Chief Don Parente dispatched West Granite City firemen with the understanding they would leave that fire if there was one inside the city limits.

The house, at Rural Route One, Box 1347, is owned by Kenneth Gibson at 8 a.m. Sunday, fire was discovered in the living room couch and in a bedroom closet. Firemen quickly extinguished both blazes which caused minor damage.

At 3 a.m. today, firemen again were called to the house and reported the flames had broken through the roof by the time firemen arrived.

Only the carport and an attached family room were saved as the main portion of the house was destroyed. Damage was estimated at about $9,000. Madison County Sheriff's deputies reported there were signs the house had been broken into prior to the fire starting, but it is not known if anything was stolen.

A state fire marshal was to inspect the ruins this afternoon and will investigate the cause of the fire.

Chief Parente noted residents of that area had mistakenly been informed by Venice Township Supervisor Christ Paschoff that they had been assigned to the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department district.

When Mitchell firemen declined to answer the call, Granite City firemen were called. Parente noted the Benjamin subdivision has been assigned to the Mitchell district, but not the area in which Gibson's house is located.

one time on Thursday.

The 600-foot lock near the southern end of the Chain of Rocks Canal remains in use, but the 1,200-foot lock is closed during work on a lower guideway, now expected to be completed in August.

Although the guideway work will continue through most of the summer, there is hope that excessive congestion can be avoided, authorities said. But inconvenience for some vessels seems certain as the season traffic volume increases.

Part of the current busy traffic is attributed to ships delayed earlier due to Alton lock congestion and now scheduled once the Alton problem was remedied.

Upstream shipments of coal and petroleum products normally increase during the spring, reaching a peak in June.

State Park

cost will be slightly higher due to bond payments covering a period of about 18 months, but that the basic cost in State Park Place is projected as $3.20 yearly per $100 assessed valuation. If the $425,000 bond issue covers 20 years and attracts an interest rate of seven and a half per cent.

The first question was whether all in the territory served would help pay the cost. It was asserted that to whom service is offered will pay, and Hartman vowed hope that the county "makes it mandatory" to tap on.

Another answer was that Collinsville sewage treatment costs for Area Two will be comparable to those paid by residents of the city itself, and are subject to annual review by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

It was noted that as provider of 75 per cent of most costs, the state retains a major voice in the policies to be followed.

A legal ruling discussed by Smith and Hartman at the hearing was that Madison County is not affected by the three special service areas which have "no expense and no liability."

Madison County is to be reimbursed for the cost of preparing and collecting sewer bills.

Mrs. Elsie Milner, 3201 Harvard, was told that assessments already have been set, and County Clerk Evelyn Bowen said that any valuation increases would be offset by a tax rate decrease. Since only a small number of dollars will be required to finance the sanitary lines.

Madison County, 3200 Harvard, was told that senior citizens on fixed incomes are aided by certain exemptions and "circuit breaker" provisions.

It was explained that 30-year bond retirement and eight per cent interest rate provisions in the county constitution and property owners are the maximums that would be considered. The actual terms will depend upon later bond decisions and bid amounts.

Some of the discussion dealt with whether the project would be fair, and it was concluded that it is most equitable apportionment method available to the sewer planners.

Answers brought out that the three sewer areas are entirely separate and must "stand on their own feet." State and federal grants are for the specific areas, and funds scheduled for one area cannot apply to another, it was noted.

Sanitary sewers were described as essential to avoid backups into yards and streets and the health hazards associated with effluent.

Some of those speaking from the audience asked that the record show not only that they do not object but also include the affirmative statement that they want and need sanitary sewers.

Figure given indicated that use of revenue already would be much costlier than the general obligation bonds due to higher interest costs.

Wood River Supervisor Roger Elbie, a County Board member knowledgeable about sanitary sewer planning, told the gathering, "Sewers are badly needed, and this is a fine program from your viewpoint. You'd better grab them."

About This Question:

"I just opened a business and am rather shocked to discover the variety of insurance I should carry. Besides the usual fire and extended coverage, I should have robbery and theft, fidelity bonding, public liability, neon sign and glass insurance, and more. A 'Commercial Package' policy will include them all, I am told. Does the reader agency have such a policy?"

Not-for-profit corporation will seek TV 18 license

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was authorized by the SIUE Board of Trustees Thursday at SIUE to proceed with the development of a not-for-profit corporation to provide educational television services to Southwestern and West Central Illinois. The corporation will be called "Southwestern Illinois Public Television, Inc."

It is to be established by SIUE officers in conjunction with representatives of area colleges, community colleges, school systems and related public and private agencies, as deemed appropriate by the acting SIUE president, Andrew J. Kochman.

Legislation pending in the Illinois House of Representatives would appropriate $1.5 million to SIUE for transmitter facilities and broadcast capability for Channel 18, which has been reserved by the Federal Communications Commission for the local area for several years.

Attendant halts fast-change act

Two men who repeatedly asked a service station attendant to make change left the business hurriedly when Lynn Shipman at Suburban Tire Co., 2000 Nantux Road, refused to go along any further with the transaction at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Shipman said one man asked for $1.50 in gas, then immediately asked for a $20 bill in exchange for three $5 bills and four $1 bills. He then sought from Shipman eight $5 bills in exchange for the 20 and the other seven bills.

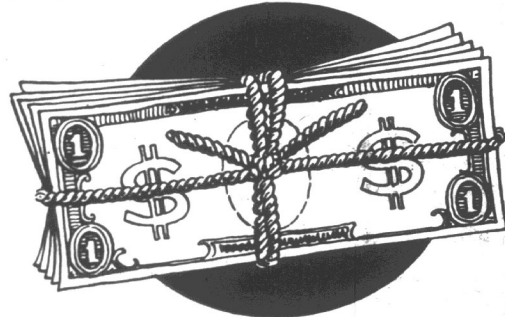

The men were driving a 1963-64 maroon Buick, registered to a Madison woman. Both men were black. One was described as five feet, 10 inches tall, slender build with black fuzzy hair, bush beard and wearing tan slacks. The second man, also of slender build with black fuzzy hair was, about five feet, six inches tall and wore a gold T-shirt.

Emerson PTA installs, views student musical

A biennial musical program and the installation of new officers were highlights of the Emerson PTA meeting held last week at the school.

The 1976-77 officers installed were: Mrs. Vinita Windland, president; Mrs. Pat Mitchell, vice president; Mrs. Lillie Paul, secretary; and Mrs. Carol Funkhouser, treasurer.

Owen E. Humphrey, curriculum coordinator for the Granite City School District, was the installing officer and presented flowers to the incoming and outgoing executives.

Mrs. Sheila MacLaughlin is the retiring president.

Mrs. Nancy Orris and pupils from the first grade presented two plays and sang patriotic songs, assisted by Mrs. Mayme Schaeffer, music teacher.

One play was entitled "Freedom" and included a recital of the meaning of freedom and the significance of the national colors—red, white and blue. The children sang "This Is Our Flag."

In the "ABC America" play, each child recited a letter from the alphabet and the repeated a word using the letter. Several songs about a letter and the pledge of allegiance was led by the youngsters.

Among the numbers were "You're A Grand Old Flag," "This Land," "Soldier Boy," and "Yankee Doodle Dandy." As the finale, the children sang "Glory, Glory Hallelujah" while marching around the gym and playing tambourines and drums.

Two area council delegates and alternates were elected in the business session and reports were read by PTA officers.

Mrs. MacLaughlin announced a dinner honoring sixth grade students will take place from 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday, May 20, at Emerson School. Awards will be given and a band will perform during the dinner, which has as its theme, "You've Come A Long Way Baby."

A social party is planned Tuesday, May 25, at 9 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Pat Mitchell for women who have served as room mothers at the school.

Refreshments were served after the performance by mothers from Mrs. Ruth Forrester's kindergarten classes.

MRS. SUSANNAH GALLOWAY, 2117 Cottage Ave. Funeral services were conducted last week at a local funeral home with burial at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township. She died May 8 at the Americana Nursing Home, St. Louis.

Farewell party for 4-H members

The Patchwork 4-H Club attended a picnic and farewell party at Wilson Park last week, honoring two members, Kim and Melissa Overath, who are moving from this area.

Both girls were presented with gifts and a Holly Hobby doll cake.

Debbie Burnett, president, conducted the business meeting, with Sue Burnett leading the group in the pledge of allegiance. Donna Wilmsmeyer recited the 4-H pledge and Wendy McElroy recorded the roll as members responded with their prayer.

Fifteen members requested applications for the 4-H summer camp to be held June 26 to July 2. The president reported all money and applications must be turned in no later than June 4.

Jean Krystofa gave a report on a project and activities demonstration she gave in "Learn to Crochet" in a county contest. She won a red ribbon for her presentation.

A discussion was held on cosmetology and mock trial programs members had attended in Edwardsville. They also planned to attend a June 12 film festival at the Home Extension office in Edwardsville.

Others present were Winona Cox, Carol Busch, Ann Fuller, Linda and Patty Graber, Carolyn Heath, Cheryl Kessler, Lynda and Mickey Loftus, Mary and Michelle Loftus, Karen Tokanski, and Deane Wilmsmeyer, leader. Mrs. Martha McElroy and mothers, Martha Burnett, Jan Wilmsmeyer and Rita Overath.

The June 3 meeting will be held at St. Elizabeth Church at 7 p.m. Those who will compete in a food demonstration contest in Edwardsville will give a preview of their presentations during the meeting.

Cooking session for Girl Scout leaders

Girl Scout leaders of Neighborhood Five attended an outdoor cooking session last week at the Madison Recreation Center Park.

New skills in outdoor cooking which will benefit Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts, were instructed by several of the leaders.

A short business meeting, following the session, was held by Neighborhood Chairman Mrs. Margaret Clements, who announced the next neighborhood meeting will be held on Sept. 13, at 9 a.m. at the Namaste Methodist Church.

Those in attendance were: Madeline Barbara Maxfield, Linda Hale, Joyce Churchwell, Carol McNeely, Jeanne Murphy, Donna Lane, Linda Beck, Linda Presley, Marie Plantia, Vivian Beyer, Catherine Ponce, Nancy Pelikan, Miss Kathy Naumann, district advisor, Mrs. Myra Parria, district chairman and Mrs. Gail Davis, guest of honor.

Poppy Days May 21-22

Poppy Day sales will be conducted in the Quad-City area on May 21 and 22 by members of Tri-City American Legion Auxiliary Unit 135. It was announced by Mrs. Mildred Rees, chairman, at an auxiliary meeting at the Post Home, 1825 State St.

Volunteers were advised to contact Mrs. Rees for specific working hours. The chapter has been received from the American Steel Foundries and Granite City Steel.

Vice-president Mrs. Ruby Cooper was in charge of the session and prayers for peace were offered by Esther Harris, chaplain.

Other events planned for the month included a mother-daughter dinner held yesterday, and election of officers at the May 26 meeting. Membership chairman Doris Hitchcock reported the 1976 dues must be paid before a member is eligible to vote. She will accept dues at the post on Monday evenings, it was noted.

Members who plan to march in the June 3 Annapolis Shrine Parade were asked to contact Mrs. Donna Tanner, chairman. Mrs. Loretta Durbin said the girls selected to represent Granite City high school at the Illinois Girl State commission at Jacksonville, Ill., in June, are Francine Litzinger, a student at South High School and Susan Ann Hummer from North High School.

The girls and their mothers were escorted by Mrs. Durbin to a tea in Highland, where they received their literary for Girl State.

Both representatives will depart for McMurray College on June 13 and return June 20. Mrs. Durbin said the selection was made on "outstanding" leadership and interest in civic affairs and government in the school, community and nation.

Members agreed to purchase two tickets for the Shrine-sponsored baseball game, to send donations to Foreign Relations, Care, Cancer Fund, and to Greg Ring, a student at the Illinois Soldier and Sailor Children's School, who will represent the school as ambassador at a coming event.

Mrs. Doris Edwards was hostess for the evening and used a Bicentennial theme in the table appointments, including pewter candle-holders and poppy floral arrangements in red, white and blue.

The Belleville West High School girls' team captured the Illinois High School Association track and field district meet at Belleville Saturday with 59 points. Second was East St. Louis with 39 and third was Belleville East with 27. Although GCHS North, GCHS South and Madison failed to qualify as a team or with individuals for this weekend's (May 21-22) state meet at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, Quad-City area athletes performed well. Only winners, runners and athletes who met state time or distance standards advanced to the state. Madison girls set seven new school records and advanced two athletes into Saturday's district finals. Darlene Reed set a new shot put mark of 33 feet, nine inches, but was eliminated in the finals. Anita Rogers, who placed third in the Cahokia invitational meets with a time of 16 seconds in 110-yard hurdles competition, set two new records - 110 hurdles 15.9 and 80-yard low hurdles 11.2. She also reached the finals at Belleville. Other new school records

Organizational meeting for GC girls' softball program

An organizational meeting will be held at the Nameki Recreation Center on Wednesday, May 19, for the Granite City Park District girls' softball program. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. At the present time, four teams have signed up for the Chic League, which is for girls in the 6th and 7th grades.

Two teams have signed up for the Petite League, for girls in the 4th and 5th grades. Two more teams are needed in the Petite League to be able to have such a league this summer.

Eighteen girls have signed up to play in the Petite League, but managers are needed for a team to be formed. These are ten girls signed up for the Chic League—enough for a team, but this team also is in need of a manager. Those interested in becoming a manager are to attend the meeting or call the Wilson Park office at 877-3059.

"Girls interested in playing in a Junior High League for 8th graders should have someone represent them at this meeting," a spokesman reported.

West captures girls' district track crown

The Belleville West High School girls' team captured the Illinois High School Association track and field district meet at Belleville Saturday with 59 points. Second was East St. Louis with 39 and third was Belleville East with 27. Although GCHS North, GCHS South and Madison failed to qualify as a team or with individuals for this weekend's (May 21-22) state meet at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, Quad-City area athletes performed well. She also reached the finals at Belleville. Other new school records were set by Sheila Woodson, two mile run (9:47.1) and mile run (6:27.5). Patricia Melton 100 dash (12.2), and Alecia Jones, Linda Campbell, Walker and Patricia Melton, 400 relay in 53.8 and 880 relay in 1:52.6. GCHS North Steelerettes who advanced from preliminary qualifying competition but were eliminated before advancing to the finals were Cathy Braun 100 dash (12.2), Robin Hayden 100 dash (12.7), Margie Verschuy 80 low hurdles (12.9), Kay Marcum 80 low hurdles (12.8), Rhonda Schilling 220 dash (28.7), and Laura Fineschier 440 dash (28.4).

North's 240 relay squad of Laura Fineschier, Rhonda Schilling, Robin Hayden and Cathy Braun had a time of 33.9, missing the state qualifying mark by three seconds. Four GCHS South Warriorettes got past the preliminary competition: Debbie Barnes, mile run 6:31, Kathy Barnes, mile run 6:31, Mary Livingston shot put 30-104 and Jan Purkey 220 dash 28.5. All were eliminated during the semifinal competition.

North, South award banquet this week

GCHS South's baseball, tennis and track teams will be recognized Thursday during an awards banquet to be held at 5:30 p.m. at the Grigby's cafeteria. Only school officials, coaches and players will be in attendance. Plans have not been completed as yet for an awards day for Madison High School athletes.

Mercer nine topples Highland 4-3, 6-2

Granite City's Mercer team won both ends of a doubleheader at Wilson Park yesterday in Illinois Inter-City Baseball League action, defeating Highland-Pierrot 4-3 and 6-2. Granite City's Thomas team lost a twinnit at Panama, 6-7 and 3-1. Mercer won the first contest on run-scoring hits by Bob Hughes, Bob Scott, Jim Greenwald and Bob Peterson. The local squad fielded flawlessly and collected 10 hits. Pat Harris went the distance on the mound for the win. Scott, Peterson, Hughes and Greenwald all singled runners home in the second game, and Greenwald provided a two-run double. John Scott was the winning pitcher. Singles Only summer league at Tri-Mor

A concept in bowling leagues new to this area - singles only - will be initiated at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowling Center, 2701 N. Main St., in St. Louis. Persons interested in joining the 12-week summer league are invited to register in advance of Wednesday by calling 451-7800, or to attend the organizational meeting in the 300 Room at Tri-Mor. Participation is limited to persons over 20 years of age. A total of 32 single persons, about an even number of men and women, already has registered for the league. Innovations not found in regular league bowling will be used in the "Singles Only" league, according to Tony Sodi, bowling center manager, and Al Weinert, league organizer. Men and women will compete against each other and opponents will change partners each week, they reported. An informal party is planned by the center management after Wednesday night's meeting, Mrs. Wiener said.

Fun and games highlighted the close of the 1975-1976 women's sports season at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville when the SIUE Association of Women's Sports held its annual awards picnic Friday.

The field hockey Cougars finished their season with a 6-6 record. Coach Cindy Jones said the team "received a number of compliments on its improvement in the level of play."

The women's basketball Cougars began their season last December and, by the middle of March, they had exceeded all expectations, finishing with a final winning record of 19-4.

The softball Cougars are still in the developing stages. Even though the final record was 4-11, the coach felt the team greatly improved in individual skills as well as team strategy, skill and confidence.

of the sewers $100,000 to bonds as the local share, but too high and that a number of residents cannot afford the projected annual fee.

The other objection was that separation into three areas would permit funding firms to choose a choice in selecting the areas for which they would pay bonds based on assessed valuation and the ability to pay bond retirement costs.

The orderly two-hour discussion was marked primarily by questions of home owners concerning projected tax rates, their application to property assessments and the cost in dollars to area property owners.

The most frequent speaker was Eddie Lee Salmond, 80 Hill St., a precinct commander. He told the County Board members that "we want one program instead of three, one unified tax rate and one unified package."

"Until this is changed into a single program we are asking that you not approve this plan. We can't afford it."

Salmond contended that if people of Area Three accepted the program, a new grant application would have to be initiated for that area and that such action also would nullify existing grants for Areas One and Two.

Edward Vonnard of Alton, who presided during the board meeting, and Walter "Dick" Sparks, Chouteau Township supervisor and the board member who is chairman of the Four-Township Sewer Committee, said that he and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, which has authorized the sewer construction program, was informed the committee that if one area does not go along with the program, the other two would retain their own sewer systems and each proceed on its own.

Sparks explained that establishment of separate districts is the only procedure by which the sewer sponsors can make general obligations bonds which are retired by a property tax levy.

"There was too much room between the areas and the sewer system. The only logical method, and the only one allowed by law, was to create three districts, each with its own sewer system. The only one allowed by law was to create three districts, each with its own sewer system. The only one allowed by law was to create three districts, each with its own sewer system."

He noted that the planners at first considered a revenue bonds (repaid by sewer use fees), but this method was determined to be ineffective because of the risk of loss of revenue bonds and their high interest cost.

Sparks, Harry E. Hartman, attorney for the sewer program, and other officials emphasized during the meeting that if the current grant approval process is not changed, citizens of Areas One, Two and Three "may never get another chance to be heard."

Don Smith, assistant state's attorney representing the County Board, warned that if Madison County is unable to find any reason to take advantage of the existing grants, it is unlikely that the county will ever again have such an opportunity. EPA funds for sewer construction and treatment are about to run dry.

While some residents complained that their respective areas lack other improvements and services, others expressed willingness to install sewers.

Ondra Wilkins, a resident of the Cloverleaf Addition, said the area in which he lives is a fire hydrant, street lights and fire protection. "There are so many things we don't have while we are talking about putting in sewers," he commented.

They Baker, also of Cloverleaf, asked if the cost also would entail payments to Granite City for sewer treatment and was told that it would be a part of a $14 monthly operation-maintenance charge.

Shirley Mainbridge, 2114 Troy Ave., asked if there was any possibility of special grants for hardship cases Sparks replied that it is possible "we can get some special help. I don't know. What we need is assurance from the people that they want sewers and are willing to pay for them," he said.

"We want the sewers, but a lot of us don't understand them," said the speaker.

Larry Jones, 204 Harris St., raised the objection to cost. "This is too high and I don't believe that there won't be other chances to get sewers at more reasonable cost. I can't afford to pay for them," he said.

Edward Jones of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab, engineering firm, said that the sewer construction, said he believes there will be little opportunity for future grants, the existing grants should be used.

"I understand that future grants by Congress will be directed principally to sewerage treatment and collection programs rather than sewer construction," Jones said.

Hartman told the gathering of about 60 that there are an average of 35 sewer users in Area Three.

He said no tap-on fee is planned, and the charge for inspecting the tap-on connection will be about $25.

Despite discussions of valuations and tax rates, Hartman said, the cost will average about the same in all areas: an estimated $100 yearly tax.

"Where the valuation is lower, the rate will be higher, and where the valuation is higher, the rate will be lower, so that in the long run all will pay about the same amount of money," he said.

Rodger J. Elbe Sr. Wood River supervisor and a board member, said that the 75-cent grant rather than the 75-cent grant would nullify existing grants for Areas One and Two.

It is possible, he said, that any future general grants may be in a $400,000 rather than the $250,000 grant now allocated to Madison County. Jones said that the 75-cent grant would nullify existing grants for Areas One and Two.

Sparks and other board members explained that a single area would be impossible because each unincorporated area involves different projects already are under way in other parts of the county.

Continuing, Sparks said that the sewer program is described as essential for a general obligation bond program.

"I move that this objection be overruled to give the people of Area Three more time to study this proposal."

If they continue to contest the plan, he said, they can prepare a petition to withdraw from the program, with 51 per cent of the voters and 51 per cent of the area to the committee and they will accept it.

As the meeting ended, Sparks also made a statement that he and the committee have previously approved as separate projects with the bonds to be sold as separate issues. The motion was approved by a vote of 15.

Great Wagon Road to Valley Forge, Pa. to take part in July 4th Bicentennial observance. After a program of blue grass and folk music at the Arch, the wagons left Friday morning for St. Genevieve and Cape Girardeau, Mo., where stops also were scheduled.

Several of the wagons originated on the West Coast and have been traveling through the west and midwest for the past several months. Horses are transported by truck to meet the wagon train when the barges carrying them are loaded at sites along the Mississippi and, later, along the Ohio River.

Several of the wagons were built in Arkansas at a cost of $5,000 each. The train has been joined by other wagons, most of them state-sponsored, as it progressed throughout the country.

The barges carrying the wagons were loaded with such fire hydrants, street lights and fire protection. "There are so many things we don't have while we are talking about putting in sewers," he commented.

They Baker, also of Cloverleaf, asked if the cost also would entail payments to Granite City for sewer treatment and was told that it would be a part of a $14 monthly operation-maintenance charge.

Niedringhaus, treasurer of this company.

On Sept. 20, 1955, the blooming mill was put into operation. The first product of the Granite Rolling Mills in St. Louis.

It continued this production until November 1956, when the bar mill was completed and sheet bars were furnished the St. Louis Mill instead of bulk.

The mill was converted into a 26x72-inch Universal plate mill, which rolled sheet bars direct from the ingots, doing away with the bar mills both in Granite City and in St. Louis. The approximate cost of this change amounted to $65,000.

Frederick and William Niedringhaus reached the peak of their business career at the end of the nineteenth century, when the three Niedringhaus plants—the St. Louis Stamping Company, the Granite Rolling Mills, and the Granite City Steel Works—were consolidated with other major producers of high-grade steel.

The Niedringhaus family, named after the Kuechler Plant of Milwaukee, Mathias Ingers, of St. Louis, and the Baberman Manufacturing Company of New York.

George W. Niedringhaus described the circumstances which led to this amalgamation of the three plants.

"Competition had sprung up in the imitation of enameled ware being made by the Niedringhaus Company, which resulted in suits being filed against these new firms for infringement of patents."

The National Enameling and Stamping Company, consolidated with the Niedringhaus Company, was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey in 1899, with a combined capital of ten million dollars and seventy million dollars common stock.

The Granite City plant, taken over by NESCO at a figure of $500,000, and the St. Louis plant at $575,000.

William F. Niedringhaus was the general manager of the new enterprise, and George W. Niedringhaus was general manager of the remaining of ficals and board members were associated with the other plants. The merger was a historic one.

"How much we would like to know about those early years," said Niedringhaus.

France Plumbing and Heating Co., Edwardsville, was low bidder on plans at $100,000 and on heating and air conditioning at $461,000. The bid stipulated a lower total if the firm is awarded both contracts.

Drda Electric Co. of Edwardsville was low bidder on electrical work at $562,990. The bid stipulated a lower total if the firm is awarded both contracts.

From the anecdotes and recollections which have come down to us, we can glean a partial amount of dependable information.

"It is apparent that they managed in a conservative and sane manner."

"Annually, they added to the equipment in their plants, especially the Granite City Steel plant."

In 1900, new additions consisted of 16 tin mills, picking, annealing and rolling mills. In 1905, the four 25-ton open-hearth furnaces were increased to 40-ton capacity, a charging machine, and other necessary auxiliary equipment.

Also, 13 gas producers were added, seven of these being for open-hearth department and six for the tin mill pair furnaces.

At this time, six additional tin mills were installed which later were changed over to four sheet mills.

The total cost of additions in 1900 was approximately $700,000.

Between 1901 and 1905, additions made to the plant amounted to approximately $600,000.

In 1903, an iron foundry was constructed at a cost of $18,000. In 1905, the four 25-ton open-hearth furnaces were increased to 40-ton capacity, a charging machine, and other necessary auxiliary equipment.

In 1907, the tin house was constructed at a cost of $25,000. In 1909, four tin mills were added at an approximate cost of $18,000.

The records indicate that the business prospered and resources increased with remarkable rapidity: 1904—$275,708; 1905—$275,708; 1906—$275,708; 1907—$275,708.

SIU backs Board of Higher Education on revenue needs

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees voted Thursday to reaffirm the board's support of the level of spending for the 1976-77 fiscal year recommended by the SIU system as recommended by the IBHE.

The board resolution calls specifically for support of Senate Bill 1646, which would appropriate $114,825,481 for the SIU system as recommended by the IBHE.

The resolution also urges support of House Bill 3338, which would increase the appropriation from the SIU in come fund by $1,200,000 for added costs related to increase enrollment at the Carbondale campus.

Acting President Andrew J. Kochman of SIU at Edwardsville voiced support for the IBHE recommended level of funding, because "it would provide a more adequate level of salary increases than the proposal on the governor's budget and it also would provide greater support for new and expanded programs."

Cochman's support was endorsed by Rosemarie Archangel, president of the University Senate at SIUE. She pointed out that "other state employees are protected by an automatic escalator clause in salary contracts which provides a built-in salary increase."

In other action Thursday, the SIU Board approved a prospectus for the position of president of SIU at Edwardsville.

The prospectus, as presented to the board by Chairman W. Deane Wiley of the Presidential Search Committee, includes a description of the university, major responsibilities of the president, and criteria for evaluating candidates.

The board also formally approved the total membership of the Presidential Search Committee, which was completed and announced April 20, with the final five members of the 13-member committee.

The committee, which prepared the prospectus, will review all candidates for president and submit the names of recommended candidates to the board without indication of preference. The board will make the final selection and appointment of the president.

Board Chairman Ivan A. Elliott, Jr., said the committee has indicated it hopes to submit its list of recommended candidates to the board by October. Elliott said it may be possible to complete the selection of the president by November.

The deadline for applications and nominations is June 4. The more than 100 applicants include Dr. Kochman, acting president.

The board voted Thursday to extend to another month the authority of the chairman and the executive committee to expedite bidding and award of contracts for reconstruction of Building 506 at Tower Lake Apartments on the local campus.

The project was given "emergency" status at the April meeting.

Dr. Kochman reported to the board Thursday that additional time is needed to proceed with the project, which resulted from a fire in the eight-apartment building on March 23.

Following an informational hearing at the conclusion of the board meeting Thursday, Chairman Elliott said that unless further action is taken by the trustees, the board will wait for state enabling legislation before giving consideration to recognizing collective bargaining.

The board voted Thursday to extend to another month the authority of the chairman and the executive committee to

County to act on zoning amendments

Zoning amendments which would allow permits to be granted for the construction of homes in business districts have been approved by the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals and will be considered by the Madison County Board during its next meeting starting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

During the zoning board's hearing on the proposed amendments, Board Member Louis Whitsell of Nantux Township, who also is a member of the zoning board, was the target of criticism from an audience that he used his influence to assist Arthur E. Miller Jr. in attempting to receive approval for construction of a house at Route 162 and Mockingbird Lane.

Miller owns Miller Excavating Co., headquartered at the location, and Whitsell admitted at the hearing he is now a superintendent with the Miller firm.

Whitsell noted he had not met Miller prior to a zoning hearing at which Whitsell supported Miller's request for a special use permit to construct a home adjacent to the excavating business.

Construction had already begun with the building being termed an office as Miller at the time received approval to change the use to a house.

Board Chairman Ivan A. Elliott, Jr., said the committee has indicated it hopes to submit its list of recommended candidates to the board by October. Elliott said it may be possible to complete the selection of the president by November.

The deadline for applications and nominations is June 4. The more than 100 applicants include Dr. Kochman, acting president.

The board voted Thursday to extend to another month the authority of the chairman and the executive committee to expedite bidding and award of contracts for reconstruction of Building 506 at Tower Lake Apartments on the local campus.

The project was given "emergency" status at the April meeting.

Dr. Kochman reported to the board Thursday that additional time is needed to proceed with the project, which resulted from a fire in the eight-apartment building on March 23.

Following an informational hearing at the conclusion of the board meeting Thursday, Chairman Elliott said that unless further action is taken by the trustees, the board will wait for state enabling legislation before giving consideration to recognizing collective bargaining.

1,500 pound safe stolen

A reinforced steel safe set in concrete inside a 50 gallon drum and weighing 1,500 pounds was stolen in a burglary at the Olympic Gas and Oil Service Station, 20th and Adams streets, reported Thursday by an employee.

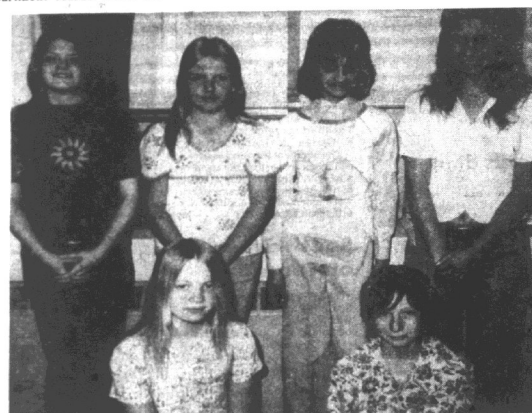

A two-foot by two-foot hole had been made in a rear wall of the station and covered over by a sheet of plywood.

The safe itself was described as an 18-inch cylinder, about six inches in diameter. Burglars dragged the safe from the closet and through the front door, officers said.

The panel will consist of five senators, three from the majority party (Democratic) and two from the minority party (Republican).

The committee is to begin its work immediately and issue an interim report to the full Senate by June 10. The interim report and possible later reports may lead to corrective legislation, Sen. Vadablene noted.

"One of the hottest controversies in the General Assembly this year is whether the increased level of workmen's compensation adopted last year has been responsible for burdening businesses around the state with extremely higher costs," Sen. Vadablene commented.

Panel to study compensation insurance rate trend in state

Senator Sam M. Vadablene, D-Edwardsville, supported a resolution in the Illinois Senate establishing a special panel to probe escalating insurance rates that may be responsible for increasing business costs ultimately passed on to consumers.

The resolution, adopted last week, creates a Special Committee on Insurance Practices to investigate "recent and proposed rate increases for workmen's compensation and occupational diseases and medical and hospital service insurance."

The panel will consist of five senators, three from the majority party (Democratic) and two from the minority party (Republican).

The committee is to begin its work immediately and issue an interim report to the full Senate by June 10. The interim report and possible later reports may lead to corrective legislation, Sen. Vadablene noted.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN
The big news is that "Riblets" are back; and just in time for the Bar-B-Q season. With Spare Ribs "out of sight", these selected Pork Loin Rib pieces will really move at only 59 cents per lb. We've been featuring these "riblets" for a number of years, but lately they have been extremely difficult to buy. Undoubtedly the best "buy" in the meat department.

We noticed that our shoppers picked up on the Instant Potato last week real fast. Here's another "sleeper": 5-lb. bag of Rice for $1.79. Think that one over very carefully. With the number of people we have searching the markets for unusual buys, every week we come up with some items of outstanding merit and unusual savings. For instance the Instant Potato referred to above. We had many people last week ask if they could buy more than one. Of course we had plenty and the inquirers that now was the time to buy. This one item represented a savings a 70 cents per box. Now when you can save 70 cents on one item, you really have a something to shout about.

SPECIAL GARDEN SHOP MESSAGE!

Bronze birch borer is the frequent cause of dying birch trees. A few dead limbs in the top is the first sign of serious damage. Lumps and swellings on normally smooth limbs confirm the presence of borers. Two spray applications with dimethoate (Cygon or Defend) in mid-May will destroy the emerging beetles and hatching eggs. Make the first application of dimethoate about May 15 and the second during the first week in June.

Attends fire school

Bob Harris, branch manager of Ecor Safety, 4704 Benning St., attended a five-day session of the International Fire School sponsored by The Annu Co. at Marinette, Wis. Fire School trainees are taught the latest in advanced fire fighting techniques in classroom lectures and field practice sessions. Most of their time at the school is spent in fighting actual fires, ranging from small gasoline spill fires to 800 square-foot pit fires and gasoline and propane pressure fires. This educational institution has been attended by safety experts from every state in the union and more than 40 foreign countries.

Methods to appeal tax audit decision

Last year, some taxpayers in this district received letters from the Internal Revenue Service asking them to provide records for an audit of their federal income tax returns. At the conclusion of the audits, the IRS gave each of the taxpayers a form to sign, saying that the taxpayers agreed with the results of their audits. All signed without question, paying any tax the IRS said they owed, right? Wrong!

A number of the taxpayers who participated exercised their right to disagree with the IRS and appeal the examiners' decisions. That right is one of several every taxpayer has. For example, taxpayers may obtain a variety of publications and printed materials and receive other forms of taxpayer assistance from the IRS in order to file a complete, accurate and timely return. This assistance is available all year. Even taxpayers who are delinquent in paying their taxes have the right to expect that IRS collection procedures are as fair and evenhanded as possible, a spokesman at the Springfield district office said. On the matter of audits, the usual reason for selecting a return for examination is to verify the correctness of the income, exemptions or deductions that were reported. Some returns are also selected as part of a random sample for research studies. In addition, all high-income returns are automatically screened.

An audit, therefore, does not imply that the IRS suspects dishonesty or criminal liability. The ultimate aim is to help ensure that all taxpayers pay the correct amount of tax.

The theory is that a taxpayer who pays his or her fair share has a right to expect that others do likewise and that enforcement action is taken against those who don't.

The tax laws are complex and taxpayers can and do have honest disagreements about how those laws should be interpreted. If a taxpayer disagrees with the results of an audit, the examiner explains the administrative appeals process within the IRS, as well as how to appeal through the courts. If the audit is held in an IRS office, the taxpayer can request a meeting to explain his or her position to the auditor's supervisor. If an agreement is reached, the case is closed. If not, the taxpayer can appeal. The first level of appeal is the district conference staff. District conferees work independently of the examiners and their supervisors, in order to view each case impartially. They pay attention to the presentation of the facts, the law and arguments supporting the taxpayer's position.

If the taxpayer is not happy with the results of the conference or wishes to skip this level of appeal, the case then goes to the second level, the appellate division of the regional commissioner's office.

The appellate conferee is organizationally independent of both the level that conducted the audit and the district conference staff. He has authority to settle any case based on its merits and on the "hazards of litigation," weighing the relative chances of success that the IRS or the taxpayer might have in court.

The administrative procedures were developed to allow a taxpayer to appeal with maximum convenience and minimum expense. However, the taxpayer need not appear alone at the audit or conference, or even appear at all. With written authorization from the taxpayer, an attorney, certified public accountant or anyone enrolled to practice before the IRS may represent the taxpayer. The taxpayer is also entitled to bring witnesses to support his or her position.

If the taxpayer still does not agree or wishes to skip the administrative appeals system, the case may go to the U. S. Tax Court, the U. S. Court of Claims or the U. S. District Court. All are independent judicial bodies having no connection with Internal Revenue.

To appeal through the Tax Court, the taxpayer must receive a formal letter called a "statutory notice of deficiency" from the IRS. The taxpayer has 90 days from the date of the notice to file a petition with the Tax Court.

The case will be scheduled in a court location as convenient as possible to the taxpayer. Again, the taxpayer may have a representative at the hearing. If the case involves $1,500 or less for any one tax year, it may be handled under the Tax Court's small tax case procedures. The taxpayer presents the case to a special trial judge whose decision cannot be appealed by the taxpayer or the IRS. Decisions by judges of the Tax Court rendered under regular procedures, however, may be appealed to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and then to the U. S. Supreme Court. To appeal through the District Court or Court of Claims, the taxpayer first pays the disputed tax and then files a claim for refund with the IRS. If the IRS rejects the claim or does not handle the claim within six months, the taxpayer may appeal to either court.

The Supreme Court reviews decisions by the Court of Claims, while District Court decisions may be appealed to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and then to the Supreme Court.

If the decision is in the taxpayer's favor, the IRS will refund the tax and pay interest for the time it held the money. For more details about audits and how to appeal them, taxpayers may read IRS Publication 556, "Audit of Returns, Appeals Rights and Claims for Refund." It is free and available from IRS offices.

As mentioned, if the taxpayer does owe the IRS money, he or she has the right to expect fair and impartial treatment from the Service's collection procedures and personnel. The IRS recommends that taxpayers who believe there is an error in a bill—or who cannot immediately pay a bill in full—contact them. In that way, minor problems can be resolved before they become larger ones. IRS collection procedures and taxpayer rights in these actions are outlined in the free IRS Publication 586, "The Collection Process" (Income Tax Accounts).

Teacher Corps to honor volunteers

Games of past still fun for youngsters

NOT-SO-COLD WAR between teams of Frohardt and Stallings School students, held on the parking lot of the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center. The tug-of-war was one of a number of oldtime games selected for revival as a way of observing the U. S. Bicentennial.

NOT A STEELIE in the ring. These Stallings and Frohardt students compete in the yesteryear pastime of marbles during the second annual "gym-jam" exhibition.

200 stage 'gym-jam'

Over 200 Granite City elementary physical education students participated in the second annual "gym-jam," held at the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center this month. In appreciation America's heritage of play and games, the youngsters staged a Bicentennial salute, with games from the past that are still popular today. Included were rope jumping, square and folk dancing, popular tag or Colonial games, tug-of-war, peach basketball, marbles, hop scotch, stills, yo-yo's, kite flying, paddyball, jacks and horseshoes. A more recent focus of innovative activity, the parachute, also was demonstrated. Schools participating in the special events were: Parkview, Mrs. Leigh Heller, physical education teacher; Wilson, Mrs. Sandy Bowler; McKinley, Darlene Werner; Lake, Jan Mehelic; Stallings, Ann Johnson; Frohardt, Susan Smith; and Maryville, Margaret Roberts. Other teachers assisting in the gym-jam were Dot Bailey, Norm Grote, Jane Kehoe, Nancy Marti and Jo Anne Higgins. The elementary staff is coordinated by Miss Barbara Kerch.

Weight Watchers GC Rotary topic

Weight watchers and proper eating habits were discussed with members of the Granite City Rotary Club by Mrs. Jean Sargis at the group's Tuesday noon meeting in the YMCA. According to the speaker, weight watching is a life style, not a fad, and weight watchers help each other with the mutual problem of overeating. The club voted to set up a Paul Harris Fellowship in honor of Edwin G. Schmitt, a past president and a senior active member. Harris was the founder of Rotary. It was announced that 17 members of the club and wives will attend "Shriners' night" Saturday at Busch Stadium for the Cardinal ball game. Donald Schaffner and Robert Lombardi were appointed as Rotary co-chairmen for the joint Optimist-Rotary Camelot auction.

Man, 27, faces six charges

Gary McCoy, 27, of 2207 Lincoln Ave., was taken into custody by force at 6:10 p.m. Wednesday after he allegedly threatened and struck at a woman with whom his wife and her daughter are staying, and allegedly resisted efforts by police to arrest him.

An officer answered a disturbance call at the home of Mrs. Chla Hadley, 2202 Lee Ave., where a man reportedly was holding a small girl by the arm who was screaming.

Mrs. Hadley told police that he had "knocked in the screen door and entered the house holding a knife" and that he had chased Mrs. Ina McCoy and daughter Carrie, through the dwelling. While the officer was present, the man threatened Mrs. Hadley and struck at her, knocking off her glasses and pulling her arm. The officer said he was required to use force to stop him. Another patrolman arrived at the scene during the scuffle.

A witness reported seeing the man holding a knife on Carrie and then throw the weapon away when the squad car approached. A knife was recovered.

McCoy was charged with resisting arrest, assault, battery, criminal damage to property and two reckless conduct charges.

According to police records, McCoy was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:20 p.m. Wednesday for treatment of a head injury. X-rays were taken and he was released to police custody.

McCoy appeared before a judge Thursday and pleaded innocent to all charges. Bail was fixed at $12,000.

NEW CONVENTION CENTER is attracting four groups 13 months in advance of its completion. Many 1977 conventions already have been scheduled, and officials see the project as an economic boon to both Missouri and Illinois. The $34 million facility will be the nucleus for other developments, including new hotels and office buildings.

IMMENSITY OF STRUCTURE is evident in this view of the still incomplete main hall of the St. Louis Gateway Convention and Exhibition Center. Overall space in the building will total 244,000 square feet. It occupies four square blocks adjacent to Seventh Street and Delmar Avenue.

Convention, exhibition center 70% done

More than 2,000 Illinoisans and Missourians toured the St. Louis Gateway Convention and Exhibition Center in Downtown St. Louis last week, as part of a preview program for civic, political and community leaders, members of professional and service organizations and Pride, a cooperative labor and management construction industry organization.

The $34 million, four-square-block Convention Center, scheduled to open in June 1977, is now 70 per cent complete. It is located at Seventh Street and Delmar Avenue.

The preview events, which will end Wednesday, have been similar in format and include introductory comments from Mayor John H. Pendergast, Harold J. Gibbons, chairman of the St. Louis Convention Center Commission, and Eugene L. Becker, director of the Convention Center.

Box lunches have been served for the guests with musical entertainment contributed by area musicians or musical groups with approval of Ken J. Farmer, president, American Federation of Musicians. They have included Singleton Palmer, Russ David, "The Jim Dandies," Bob Kuban, Johnny Polzin, the St. Louis Ragtime and the St. Louis public schools bands.

Guided tours have included the exhibition areas, meeting rooms and other facilities of the 244,000-square-foot structure. A special guest was Col. Theodore D. McNeal, who, along with the late Philip F. Lichtenstein, was co-chairman of the Citizens for Civic Convention Center, the successful campaign which passed a $25 million bond issue, making the St. Louis Convention Center possible.

Mayor Pendergast told the audience, "You are looking at the transformation of four square city blocks into one of the largest, most flexible and complete convention facilities in the nation. It should benefit both sides of the river."

Ground for the project was broken in April 1974 and the center is scheduled to be fully open for use by next spring. The center includes a 22,600-square-foot lobby with easy access to each of three exhibit areas.

An L-shaped hall with 55-foot ceilings on the first floor can accommodate more than 1,300 exhibit booths. It can be divided by means of movable walls into three halls.

Meeting rooms of every configuration are available, more than 50 in all, with a full range of audio-visual and closed circuit television systems available.

One room seats 2,544 persons, another 1,980 persons and six others seat 840 each. And another six rooms seat 660 each.

The meeting room complex on the second level can convert to 30 acoustically-engineered rooms with seating capacities ranging from 660 downward to 28 persons.

Other elements include box offices, press facilities, sound systems, staging, dressing rooms, VIP rooms, "sky hooks," garage space, a vast kitchen capable of serving banquets for more than 5,000 persons, and a permanent cocktail lounge.

James Turek, director of convention sales, noted that more than 270 days of the building's first full year of operation have been booked by more than 60 conventions, including such groups as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the American Medical Association and the American Newspaper Publisher Association.

Turek said the center is "an important part of the continued growth and economic well-being of the St. Louis metropolitan area."

In addition to fostering education and technology here, it will also offer this region some of the best cultural advantages the nation has to give, he added.

Gibbons, chairman of the Convention Center Commission, told the Press-Record, "This project will prosper both Illinois and Missouri through employment opportunities and related construction projects. St. Louis cannot prosper alone; it needs Illinois."

Gibbons noted that satellite projects have begun, with a new Sheraton Hotel being constructed adjacent to the new center.

Fair, constructive approach by Madison County Board toward resolving long unmet sanitary sewer needs here

The Madison County Board "stood tall" Saturday with the fair manner in which it conducted hearings on sanitary sewer Special Service Areas Two (State Park Place) and Three (East Madison, Cloverleaf and Eagle Park Acres).

The final hearing in the series will take place at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 22, for Area One (parts of Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice Townships).

All who wished to be heard had an opportunity to speak, and many pertinent questions and answers were exchanged. The two gatherings of citizens left with more detailed understanding of the sewer installation projects than had been possible for them to obtain before.

In addition to the service information presented, the sewer bond information to affected property owners, residents and businesses, the County Board showed a far-sighted and constructive attitude, accurately citing health and economic benefits — and outlining why it is essential that the three areas proceed at this time.

rather than relying on the quicksand of unfounded hopes of easier solutions later. By unanimous vote of the board members present, the board rejected an informal petition and two verbal objections raised at the Area Three hearing. There were no objections from Area Two.

The points raised in Area Three related to cost and whether one could replace the three that have been planned.

On the former aspect, the board found that the current potential cost is much more favorable than would be possible in future years; not only would the current 75.25 percent financing formula be worsened to 60-40, but the state bond fund from which the present grants have been assured is about exhausted.

On the latter point, the number of areas, the board determined that unsewered revenue bonds would be the only method in which there could be a single area "vehicle" that cannot be used. With general obligation bonds, each area served must be contiguous, necessitating the three separate programs.

New look at Illinois compensation costs is necessary

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — In last spring's session of the Illinois General Assembly legislation was passed and signed by Gov. Dan Walker that dramatically increased unemployment insurance benefits.

Since that time, unemployment payments have skyrocketed to such an extent that the state's Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund has gone broke, and millions are being borrowed from the federal government to pay benefits.

Business and industry payments to the fund have increased to the point where many companies are closing their doors or moving out of state.

Costs and liability of workers' compensation have forced record numbers of employers to obtain insurance through the state's assigned risk pool because many insurance companies have stopped writing workers' compensation insurance in the state. Those that still do are often doubling and tripling their premiums.

Two packages of bills have been introduced in the current legislative session to try to counteract the adverse effects that have taken place with last year's legislation. They merit close scrutiny by the General Assembly as a means of rectifying problem areas that are creating a harmful business climate for the state.

A recent survey of businessmen taken by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce shows 76 percent of them think the state has a "just fair" or "poor" business climate when compared with eight other leading industrial states. The cost of unemployment and workers' compensation was cited as a principal factor in this appraisal.

One package of three bills, introduced by House Assistant Minority Leader William Walsh (R-LaGrange) would change rules governing unemployment insurance.

These bills tighten eligibility for benefits by reinstating the time range for benefits from 10 to 26 weeks rather than the present automatic 26 weeks, reinstating the full waiting week period after employees are laid off, disqualifying employees who voluntarily quit work, and requiring a test of 50 percent support to receive the dependent's allowance.

The Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund is mandated by state law to maintain a $450 million reserve. The fund went broke last December.

If current patterns continue, the state will have borrowed $360 million from the federal government for the fund by June 30. The deficit could go as high as $1 billion by 1977. This money must be paid back within three years.

The way that is done is by assessing a surtax on all employers of 1 percent a year until the debt is paid. This is in addition to the normal tax companies pay.

Because of the benefit changes made last year, the average tax paid by employers already has doubled. For example, in 1975 employers paid 11 percent of the payroll based on the first $4,200 of wages. This year it has reached 2.3 percent. By 1977 it is expected to be two and half times that figure.

A workers' compensation package, drafted by the State Chamber and the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, is sponsored by Rep. Gilbert Deavers, R-Bloomington and Senate Minority Leader John Graham, R-Barrington.

The 13 bills remove a number of penalties added to the law last year for employers who fail in one way or another to comply with state requirements. In addition, benefits would be increased and tightened up for injuries or job-related deaths.

The present law allows benefits for any disease, including all ordinary diseases of life, either caused by work or aggravated by employment. Proposed bills would cover only disease caused by employment.

Sufficient evidence of harm to Bay View Hospital, a clinic of Illinois has surfaced to warrant a new look at the legislation that was passed last year. A balance must be struck. Some benefit improvements are necessary but not so drastic that they drive employers out of our state.

Busy schedule for chairman of Bi-State Agency

(Gateway Council Report of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council)
Granite City is a steel town, a working man's town.

Mayor Paul Schuler's office reflects the town and the man. Sports trophies and family photographs are the decorations. When the mayor entered to talk with the first in his series, the first thing he did was to take off his suit coat.

Q: Mayor, you are the chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency and, as such, are automatically a member of the Gateway Council's board of directors. How do you see the two agencies interacting?

A: Right now the two agencies already overlap in many areas and that's good. It provides for more rapid solutions to transit problems. Let me give you a few examples. The two agencies are joined in many areas. This is especially beneficial because the interaction brings about more realistic planning and solutions.

I like the whole idea of East-West transit, so to speak. In fact, we never talked about anything at all.

Q: Do you see Bi-State's role changing in the years ahead?

A: Yes. I see Bi-State moving into all transportation areas — becoming all inclusive.

Let me give you a few examples. Port work will increase and, with it, port facilities and river traffic.

The transportation system will continue to improve and expand. It is already about 100 percent better than just three years ago.

Bi-State may become more involved with local areas and problems. Whether they should be abandoned or restored.

For that matter, we may become involved with local airports like the Cahokia Air port.

In general, I think Bi-State will be less and less thought of as running buses and instead be the comprehensive transportation agency.

Q: Speaking of buses, do you ever see the majority of the area's residents giving up driving to work?

A: Sure, why not? We've got Wild flowers club topic

"Illinois Wild Flowers" is the subject of study. Clonoville Garden Club has invited the current year. Specimens of yellow buttercups and yellow wild roses brought.

our taste because of previous experiences, but the situation has really improved over the last few years.

People are realizing that it costs less to ride a bus than to drive.

In Granite City, for example, we really don't have suburban build-up so there's not much car pooling.

The buses are in the people's favor. They are fast; they don't stop at every corner any more.

A: Let's change the subject a little bit. You now sit on the board of two regional agencies.

"Do you feel that 'regionalism' will ever be accepted throughout the St. Louis area?"

A: Yes. Even now, the attitudes toward regionalism are changing.

Likes lights; circles still a problem

To the Editor: I would like to commend Alderman Jerry Parmley for his responsiveness on my request for street lighting on Rodger Avenue.

Ward Six can be thankful for an alderman who cares enough to move as quickly as possible to meet the needs of his ward.

However, there seems to be a problem which no alderman's influence can cure with the exception of the problem of poor care for public "circles" in various subdivisions throughout the city.

These circles, well-kept, are credits to the neighborhood. But those without proper maintenance become unsightly hazards which grow tall weeds and grass that hide dangerous broken glass, jagged metal cans and numerous other undesirable objects.

I believe it is the city's job to maintain these circles so that they are clean and become a place for the neighborhood and especially for children.

Years ago, surrounding families would take turns maintaining the circle on the block that I live on, but now individual families cannot continue to foot the bill-in money or time-for the proper care.

I realize that Sup. Portell's street crews are probably busy with the many sewer breaks and road repairs necessary for the city, but numerous calls to his office have brought no results.

I believe that if one of these circles were in his neighborhood, it would be more properly maintained.

I realize that this does not appear to be a heavy burden, but it is of much concern to those living in the subdivisions where these circles have been built.

Immediate action by Portell, the same sort of dedication Alderman Parmley has shown, is of utmost importance.

Farmers not receiving fair prices

To the Editor: Our American farmers are the major producers of grain, meat and dairy products.

To kill the hen that lays the egg, the cow that raises the calf, the sow that farrows the pig or to short-change the American farmer by asking him to produce and sell his products at a loss, not only to America but to many countries of the world—is now plain stupid.

Some are now in the process of shaping the fruit of his labor, namely wheat, at a cost lower than the cost to the farmer for producing it. It has happened in the whole world would suffer.

News media blames the farmer for the high cost of living. Bread and meat, taken at their value, when compared to the rest of the high cost of living, have never been cheaper.

To qualify the above statements with good sound facts, the Illinois Farm Bureau as stated, and I quote:

"Would you believe $2 out of every $10 spent in a supermarket goes for non-food items?"

"Here are some figures on what the farmer receives: For a can of corn—3½ cents; a package of frozen peas—3 cents; a can of peaches—10 cents; a pound of white bread—8 cents; a 10-pound bag of potatoes—59 cents; a head of lettuce—12 cents; 1½-gallon of milk—40 cents; poultry—31 cents a pound; and choice beef—86 cents a pound.

All of these items are made from the farmer's grain, he will receive about 18 percent of the sale price. We are almost ready to harvest what apparently will be a bountiful crop of wheat. The farmer cannot get $3 a bushel; he must have $4 and should have $5 a bushel.

A price increase of no more than a few pennies on a loaf of bread would result in a 10 percent increase in the consumer from a per-bushel price to the farmer of $4 to $5.

Farmers do not want subsidy or subsidies. All we want is a fair price for our products—not too high and not too cheap.

Massage control law proposed in Pontoon Beach

An ordinance defining and controlling "massage parlors" was presented for first reading before the Pontoon Beach Village Board Friday night and will be considered for passage at the board's May 28 meeting. The ordinance calls for masseuses and masseurs to have training or accreditation in the healing arts. It requires licensing of masseuses and masseurs by the village, and sets sanitation standards and requirements for massage parlors. The board also received for first reading an ordinance which would change regular board meetings from 6:30 p.m. on Fridays to 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. Final action is expected also at the May 28 meeting. The board opened the only bid received for cleaning storm sewers in the Lakeview Estates subdivision and called for a recessed meeting at 5 p.m. today to act on the bid. Reed Sanitation Service submitted a $1,250 bid for the work. A recent village ordinance requires a 48-hour period between opening bids and awarding contracts.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Minor injuries were sustained at 4:10 p.m. Saturday by Joseph A. Muller, 204 Kirkpatrick Homes, when his car collided with the rear of a car driven by Kevin L. Davis, 1665 Fifth St., Madison, at Nameoki Road and Palmer Street. Muller told police he was distracted when a boy threw a firecracker in the street and he did not see the car ahead of him come to a stop.

Last concert at South Thursday

The Granite City South Stage Band under the direction of Terry Waller will perform the last concert in the 1975-76 concert series on Thursday, at 8 p.m. in the South High School auditorium.

Admission is 75 cents for adults, 35 cents for students, or a season's ticket. Music for the concert will be selected from various styles: jazz, blues, rock and show tunes.

It has been a busy year for the South Stage Band with performances at school activities and outside activities such as the Mayor's Ball in February and the Illinois Educational Secretaries Conference at Stouffers Restaurant in April.

On May 21, the Stage Band also will perform at the Holiday Inn in Edwardsville for the McDonald-Hamburger Corporation's national essay contest awards banquet.

The Stage Band is an extra curricular activity with no credit, and meets after school once a week.

The band was created a few years ago to expose interested students to the various forms of music which are heard today. Stage Band Members are chosen through auditions where vacancies occur.

Seniors performing are Dan Powell, Gwen Stratton, Becky McCommis, Bob Miller, Steve Boston, Ann Langley, Karol Lee.

CHILD INJURED
Heather Miskelly, 17 months, 722A Washington Ave., was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5:45 p.m. Friday following an accident in which her head struck the dash.
